

Project Management

During challenging economic times, change is the one constant required to keep your business and people ahead of the competition. The implementation of change requires business strategy, goal setting, effective planning and execution. It is increasingly necessary to have employees who can successfully manage this process to maximise your return on investment as bringing in specialists can be expensive.

This 2 day project management programme looks at easy to use, essential tools to successful project planning and the process to implement them to make your change a smooth and effective transition.

If you are not sure whether Prince Practitioner training is for you, have neither the time or the financial resources to invest in it right now, or are simply looking for a stepping stone before you do, then this course is ideal for you.
